Research Data Management Plan

DMP component
1. Description of data	The type of data that is collected, generated, processed, analyzed and archived by the research center is specific to social surveys on various social problems: socio-demographic data, attitudinal and opinion data, behavioral data, qualitative interview transcripts, other textual data from survey responses. Based on the principles of secondary analysis of social data, CSTS re-use existing data respecting the rules imposed by license (correct mention of the data source). The size of data produced can vary based on the aim, objectives and scale of each individual surveys. For data quality control, research center uses standardized instruments, sociological research methods, validated measurement scales and standardized data analysis protocols. Data analysis is ensured using well-known software such as SPSS, NVIVO, Microsoft Excel. Software is used for data validation to identify errors or inconsistencies, to identify outliers or abnormal patterns CSTS encourages pre-testing of research instruments to identify potential issues and conducting pilot studies according to the thematic addressed in the survey. The subjects included in sociological investigations are people. Respecting all deontological and ethical norms, CSTS applies data anonymization procedures to protect respondent privacy. The research center adheres to ethical guidelines and standards for social research. Personal and sensitive data are handled with utmost care and in compliance with data protection laws and regulations. Each respondent included in the research is informed about the purpose of data collection and how their information will be used, and, where necessary, informed consent is obtained from participants.
2. Data Collection & storage	Data collection and data management follows the rules implied by sociological research methodology. Each researcher is responsible to follow the research methodology, applying data standardization measures and archiving them. Data and research results are stored in institutional repository (harddrives and computers) and are available upon request. The databases are archived based on the research themes addressed in the sociological surveys.
3. Data sharing & open data	CSTS mostly generates and manages databases obtained in quantitative and qualitative research. The databases are archived at the institutional level. Access to the databases is open by request. The databases are not stored in an official repository. To encourage the re-use of data and to promote research results, depending on the type of data, CSTS follows to give open access according to the principle 'as open as possible as closed as necessary'. CSTS wants to ensure the dissemination of research data and research results and provides upon request information about any research output or any other tools and instruments needed to re-use or validate the data. Available datasets include the description of data, keywords, authors, project title and funding (if the case), research methodology and instruments, licensing terms, related publications and other research outputs (if the case). The conditions for accessing the data are established by the research team members, depending on the theme and the activity carried out.
4. Legal and ethical aspects	Sensitive data All sensitive data (survey participant information, if the case) is stored using standardized protocols to safeguard against unauthorized access. Access to sensitive data is restricted only to researchers involved in the research activities and is used only for scientific purposes. Physical storage of any collected documents or data is kept in secure archives. Regular backups of sensitive data are performed to ensure data integrity and availability. These backups are stored in secure locations. Data is retained only for the necessary duration and is securely deleted when it is no longer needed. Data security and GDPR Survey participants are provided with clear information about the purpose of data collection, and their consent is obtained before collecting in the case of any sensitive information needed. CSTS takes all measures to ensure the confidentiality of participant information and no personally identifiable information is disclosed without explicit consent. Data is anonymized to protect the identity of participants. Personal identifiers are stored separately from the research data. Our data collection and storage practices comply with the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) guidelines. This includes the right to be forgotten, data portability, and other data subject rights. Ethical aspects All research projects and activities follow the ethical standards and guidelines applied in sociological research. If necessary, the researchers request approval from the Institutional Ethical Board. Researchers adhere to principles of honesty and transparency throughout the research process, including reporting findings accurately and avoiding misleading interpretations. Researchers disclose any potential conflicts of interest that may compromise the objectivity or integrity of the research.

5. Agreements on rights of use and license	Researchers involved in scientific activities (collecting, processing, analyzing and store data) are responsible for all the data generated, research results and research outcomes. Research team leader (if the case) or research team members establish by mutual agreement the conditions of data use. The management of research data subscribes to the regulations and procedures of the University of Oradea.
6. Data management responsibilities	No specific resources are allocated for data management. The research team that conducts specific research activities is responsible for the management of research data.
